36 BLOOD VALUES

36 analysed blood values and parameters providing precise information on:

- your health
- your metabolism
- any deficiencies in key elements associated with metabolic dysfunction.

Your blood report combined with your personal data and your food list is the basis of your Metabolic Balance nutrition plan.

This enables us to select exactly the right foods that match your nutritional requirements – giving your body the best possible metabolic balance.

BLOOD SUPPLIES THE BODY WITH OXYGEN AND NUTRIENTS.

Blood replenishes organs and tissues throughout the body; it can also carry inflammatory markers and transmit signs of disease.

Using your blood values, we identify nutrient deficiencies and the impact this may have on your system.

Our analysis provides insights to the health of your organs and potential risks for disease.

Blood has long been the most reliable and non evasive method to identify and treat obesity, diabetes, hypertension and other health conditions. Our advantage is our deep understanding to potential weakness and deficiencies.

From the information we gather we can create a tailor-made nutrition plan for you. Should we observe a medical risk, we will advise you to seek further medical advice.

DIABETES MELLITUS

Currently more than 425 million people worldwide are affected by diabetes. This is 1 in 11 people. 12% of the global health expenditure is spent on diabetes ($727 billion in 2017).

Type 2 diabetes can arise from poor lifestyle choices and accounts for 90% of diabetics today. The remaining 10% are Type 1, which is an auto-immune disorder.

It is a myth that Type 2 diabetes is based on genes alone. This information is now obsolete. Start to look at what you are eating and stop ignoring the pleas from your body. Tiredness and fatigue will soon be a distant memory.

Metabolic Balance has helped diabetics to reduce their medication and balance nutrient deficiencies by carefully selecting foods that are optimally matched to their needs.

A professional nutritional metabolic plan is widely recognised as a highly effective and lasting treatment method. This is why we strongly recommend that diabetics receive professional assistance and support.

HYPERTENSION

Nearly one quarter of the world's population suffers from hypertension. In Australia about 2.6 million people have high blood pressure - that's 1 in every 10 adults.

High blood pressure is one of the most frequent health risks today and the major risk factor for cardiovascular diseases. In some cases it may be of genetic origin, however the most common cause is an increase in body weight combined with a lack of physical exercise and heightened stress levels.

Many suffering from high blood pressure today have benefited enormously from improving their diet. An individual and adapted meal plan, that's nutrient dense, supplies the necessary vital substances to the cells, overcoming weight issues and fluid retention caused by poor metabolism.

A healthy nutrition plan and a improved lifestyle is an essential foundation to normalise high blood pressure.

OBESITY

A grayscale photograph of a female doctor in a white lab coat with a stethoscope, sitting at a desk and talking to a female patient. The doctor is holding a clipboard and a pen. The patient is sitting on a stool, looking at the doctor. The background is a bright, out-of-focus indoor space.

According to the WHO, more than 640 million people suffer from obesity today. That's one in eight people, more than 12% of the world's adult population!

Excess weight and obesity amongst children has reached an unprecedented level. Almost one quarter of Australian children aged 5-17 are either overweight or obese.

Weight problems and obesity are major risk factors for a number of chronic diseases like diabetes, cardiovascular diseases and cancer.

Obesity is an interaction of changes in dietary habits, lifestyle and environment. Human genetic characteristics have not changed significantly in centuries. However, our living environment characterised by an overabundance of poor quality food and physical inactivity has shifted considerably from what our ancestors experienced.

Obesity is a disease widespread in Western society. It's considered a major risk factor for secondary diseases such as hypertension and associated cardiovascular diseases, as well as diabetes and joint issues. Healthy nutrition may effectively prevent obesity.

Metabolic Balance provides a personalised nutrition plan which, in the long term aims to support healthy digestion and immune function. Leading to improved quality of life and vitality.

The person is seen in profile, looking down with their hand resting on their head, suggesting a state of distress, contemplation, or sadness. The background shows a calm body of water with a few small boats in the distance and some trees or foliage on the right side. The overall mood is somber and reflective.

OTHER SYMPTOMS

Burnout and stress related conditions, depression, lethargy and exhaustion, poor immune function, autoimmune conditions, migraine, rheumatic complaints, arthritis/joint complaints, gout, osteoporosis, liver and gall bladder complaints, kidney stones and gallstones, allergies and food intolerances, gastrointestinal complaints, heartburn, low blood sugar, poor cholesterol balance, hormonal imbalances, skin problems, sleep disturbances, menopausal complaints, loss of libido, reduced infertility and the list goes on ...

METABOLIC CYCLES AND STAGES OF LIFE

Nutrition in later years

Our body mass composition typically changes with age, i.e. lean muscle decreases whilst body fat percentage increases. As we lose muscle mass and strength, our mobility, agility and balance is impacted leading to an increased risk of falls and fractures.

Ageing can impact digestion and lead to poor absorption of nutrients. Lower nutrient levels may further increase risk of age related health conditions.

A nutritional health approach should aim to both protect and improve quality of life as we age. The earlier nutritional shortcomings are identified and rectified the more likely you are to age well. The Metabolic Balance program may be helpful in the prevention of nutrition-related disorders and as part of an anti-ageing strategy.

Growing a healthy family

Obesity and stress are believed to be a common underlying cause of infertility and difficulties in conception. Nutrition plays a significant role in rebalancing and supporting a healthy menstrual cycle and may improve the health of both would-be parents. An optimal supply of micronutrients is vital, together with essential proteins, healthy carbohydrates and fats.

A well-balanced meal plan rich in vital nutrients together with the principles of Metabolic Balance may naturally reduce weight and rebalance hormones.

Menopause and Weight Increase

Problems during menopause experienced by so many women are often related to hormonal changes and imbalances.

Optimum dietary choices form a solid foundation to help you combat these issues and support your body during hormonal fluctuations.

A Metabolic Balance nutrition plan may directly benefit you by providing essential nutrients and vital substances that are often lacking during this stage of life.

STUDIES AND SCIENTIFIC EVALUATION

Metabolic Balance puts special emphasis on the scientific basis of the method as well as the scientific evaluation of the nutrition concept.

A study published in the British Medical Journal¹ compared eight health and metabolic improvement programs. Metabolic Balance was the only program to achieve the criteria that are necessary for long-term success:

» 50% of the participants in this survey had to reduce their weight by 5% or more – and maintain that weight for one year. «

62.5% of people using Metabolic Balance² achieved this with 31.1% enjoying more than 10% weight loss after 12 months!

PARTICIPANTS' SUCCESS STORIES

At the beginning I had to get used to this new way of eating. But when I saw the first results in the mirror, I knew it really made sense – and that I just HAD to continue with it.

Today I weigh around 93 kg and have sensational blood values. I'm still able to maintain my weight without difficulty, even though I am not sticking 100% to my plan – instead I just try to comply with most of the 8 principles.

Not only did I succeed in achieving my goal on Metabolic Balance, BUT, unbelievably, I also gave up smoking forever! All my cravings have gone and over-eating and snacking are a distant memory!

TESTIMONIALS FROM MEDICAL PRACTICES

(Doctors and Therapists)

Having counselled more than 3,000 clients with this program, I am convinced that this always was, is and will remain the most sustainable method. Above all, it works with regular, fresh food and quick and easy recipes – practical and easily managed! The support provided by the Metabolic Balance team is second to none – people who are striving to sustainably improve their health are in good, competent hands here. -

Nutritional therapist

I have been practicing as a medical doctor for over 35 years in both modern and traditional medicine. After trying many nutritional programs, I found that MB was the most scientific and successful method for my patients. It is an essential element in combination with other daily medical care approaches for my patients who suffer from metabolic disorders. -
